Corporations / Partnerships / LLCs

The Corporate Practice Group at DiFrancesco Bateman provides multi-faceted, practical corporate and transactional advice and advocacy to a wide variety of business and financial clients on any type and size transaction, including mergers, acquisitions, corporate re-capitalizations, restructuring, and reorganizations involving corporate or alternative business entities (such as partnerships, limited liability companies). The attorneys handle day-to-day legal matters for corporations and business entities. The group also represents borrowers and lenders in a broad range of financing transactions. Our clients include closely-held businesses, family businesses, service businesses, manufacturers, distribution companies, retail stores, start-up companies, restaurants and bars, technology companies, financial institutions, state, county and local authorities, limited liability companies, and private and public corporations.

The Corporate Practice Group regularly provides advice with respect to a wide range of topics, including:

- Asset and stock purchases and sales
- Choice of entity analysis, formation and organization of new businesses, capitalization, and related requirements
- Labor and employment issues
- Leasing/planning, financing, structuring, etc.
- Real estate
- Shareholder agreements, operating agreements, buy-sell, cross-purchase, and other succession planning
- Business agreements
- Business transactions
- Environmental issues
- Bankruptcy ramifications
- All day-to-day business legal needs

The Corporate Group is structured to deliver a full-service business practice for all business entities, structures and organizations, including the handling of all extraordinary and day-to-day matters and issues. Our focus is to provide value-added, cost-effective, responsive and practical advice and advocacy.
